Policy: Student Support and Welfare Policy

Overview

City-Wide Building & Training Services Pty Ltd (CWBT S) is committed to protecting and promoting the welfare of our Students. CWBT S recognises that individual Students have individual needs, and some may need additional support.

In accordance with the Standards for RTOs 2015, and providing quality training and assessment services to students with disabilities, this policy ensures that CWBT S will take active steps to prevent harassment or victimisation of all learners and staff, including those with a disability.

CWBT S is committed to giving every Student an opportunity to successfully complete their chosen course and recognises that our Students come from a diverse range of backgrounds and have a diverse range of work and life experiences.

Student Welfare and Support aspects includes, but is not limited to:

1. Academic support.
2. Non-academic support.
3. Providing additional support to students who may have special needs (i.e., Students with specific health issues, students with disabilities and students needing support with Language Literacy and Numeracy, students under the age of 17).

Key Staff

The following Staff are critical in the provision of support to Students:

1. Course advisors – help explain the nature of the course to prospective Students
2. Student services – undertake a pre-training review of Students and also answer public queries
3. Trainers and Assessors – who deliver and assess courses
4. Senior Trainer and Assessors – who may provide additional support to individual Students
5. Training Managers – who may provide support to Students when required or to Trainers
6. Training Manager – who provides specific support as required
7. Individual Learning Needs Support Officer – who evaluates Language, Literacy and Numeracy skills and supports both Trainer and Student in LLN matters

8. Learner Management system support officers – who provide support to Students and Staff regarding issues with the online learning Management system

Student Welfare

The Training Manager will touch base with each Trainer to see if any students have been identified as having special needs or needing welfare support.

Detailed record of each case is entered into the Student Welfare Register. Due to the often-sensitive nature of welfare cases, access to the Student Welfare Register is highly restricted.

The Training Manager is also available to support Trainers when working with difficult students or when they have personal matters. The Training Manager may liaise with the Simonds Personnel HR Team where relevant.

Student Support – Certificate III and Higher-Level Courses

CWBTS provides Student support in a range of ways.

Our course suitability review (also known as a pre-training review or PTR) and Language, Literacy and Numeracy (LLN) evaluations are designed to determine whether a Student may need additional support to successfully undertake their preferred qualification.

This support may vary from LLN needs, to learning difficulties, Students with physical or medical disabilities and to Students who may not have studied for some time.

Where additional support needs are determined, the matter is referred to the Training Manager who then develops a support plan in conjunction with the Trainer prior to the Student commencing.

Trainers and / or Students may also contact the Training Manager if they believe a Student may need additional support. The Training Manager will then work with both the Trainer and the Student to identify an appropriate support plan.

Evaluating Support Needs of Students with Special Needs

Students with health issues or disabilities

Students intending to enrol for training with CWBTS are requested prior to enrolment to advise CWBTS if they have any disability, physical, health issue or other impairment which may adversely affect their ability to successfully undertake training and assessment. Students are encouraged to discuss with CWBTS any 'special needs' and/or 'reasonable adjustments' to the study environment which they consider are necessary or would assist them in the performance of their studies.

CWBTS, in collaboration with the Student, will assess the potential for the Student to successfully complete the training which may include flexible delivery options to optimise the ease and benefit of the Students' learning. However, no compromise to the integrity of the assessment against competency will be allowed.

Students with a disability are required to have the ability to fulfil the core requirements of the units of Competence to attain the relevant award. However, it is recognised that flexibility in arrangements may need to be implemented.

Where a prospective Student indicates that they have a health issue or disability on or prior to their application, the Staff member undertaking the enrolment process will ask if they have any special requirements.

Where relevant, the prospective Student will be referred to the Training Manager for a formal interview to confirm that the Student is able to physically participate in the course (where relevant), identify support mechanisms required and identify any requirement for reasonable adjustment in the provision of materials, unit selection, delivery or assessment.

Many Students with disabilities or special needs use assistive technology such as a hearing aids, cochlear implant, specialist computer programs such as 'Jaws', PC-tremor control, etc.

Where a Student may benefit from assistive technology, the Training Manager will investigate assistive technology available and seek advice from experts which may include:

- The Student's GP, medical specialist or other specialised expert such as a physio, case / social worker, etc
- National and local specialty support groups and experts that can provide advice on accessing and implementing assistive technologies such as Vision Australian, Deaf Australia, MS Foundation Australia, etc.

Where a Student has a requirement for Reasonable Adjustment, the Trainer will liaise with either the Training Manager and / or Training Manger. An outline of the support required will be discussed and documented and professional development will be provided to the Trainer if needed.

The Training Manager may also consult with or refer to an external body for guidance on particular issues if required.

It is important to note that the Training Manager is not expected to be an expert in assistive technology nor hold Qualifications in assistive technology.

In assessing whether a particular adjustment is reasonable, the following is taken into consideration:

- The nature and severity of the disability and / or medical condition
- The physical health requirements of the course
- The requirements of the course
- The effect of the adjustment on you and your ability to:
 - Achieve learning outcomes
 - Participate in the courses and complete assessments and learning activities
 - Obtain a job aligned to the qualification
 - Maintain independence
- The effect of the proposed adjustment on anyone else affected, including CWBTS, personnel and other Students
- The costs and benefits of making the adjustment
- The impact on your employer (if undertaking an apprenticeship or traineeship)

This same process is applied if an existing Student develops a disability or medical condition.

If a Student cannot meet the inherent requirements of the course, even with adjustments, then they will not be able to successfully complete the course. Where this is the case, CWBTS will advise the prospective Student or actual Student and may recommend alternatives. These alternatives may include recommending another course or qualification (which may or may not be provided by CWBTS).

CWBTS is committed to setting Students up for success at all times.

Costs associated with adjustments

CWBTS will analyse all direct and indirect costs associated with any adjustments. In some cases, a Student may be able to access funding to obtain help with LLN, pc skills and / or assistive technology and aids. This will be considered as offsetting costs where applicable.

In other cases, CWBTS may consider how many Students may benefit now or in future from a technology investment to assist an individual Student.

Where the Student is participating or intending to participate in an apprenticeship or traineeship and the physical aids or assistive technology would also be used within the workplace, CWBTS may seek to share costs with the employer.

In other cases, the Student may already hold the technology or aids and the costs to CWBTS is minimal or negligible.

However, it is important to acknowledge that in some cases, the costs of implementing an adjustment may not be practical. And that such a cost may impose an unjustifiable financial hardship on CWBTS (or a workplace if relevant to apprenticeship / traineeships).

In all cases, CWBTS will try to accommodate reasonable adjustments where practical.

Where CWBTS cannot make reasonable adjustment due to financial costs, we will provide this outcome both verbally and in writing as soon as practicable after the decision is made.

Students who are identified as disengaged

The Trainer and Assessor will notify the Training Manager to discuss where a Student has an attendance issue and there is a potential disengagement issue.

Where relevant, the Training Manager will refer this to the Training Manager
In some cases, the Student may also contact Student Services of the Welfare Coordinator to discuss this themselves.

The Training Manager will conduct a 'well-being call' to contact them and identify any underlining issues that may be impacting their attendance and liaise with the Trainer to develop an individual re-engagement strategy taking into account the Student's specific needs. The Training Manager will then monitor ongoing participation of the Student.

The focus is on early intervention to ensure that Students don't fall too behind in their academic progress.

If the student is under the age of 17, please also refer to the section "Students under the age of 17 Exempt from School Attendance".

Students under the age of 17 Exempt from School Attendance

Each state has rules around the requirements for students under 17 to attend School. In some cases a student may obtain an Exemption from School. An exemption only applies to the specific training provider and program listed on the exemption letter or certificate.

If a student gains an exemption to undertake an apprenticeship or traineeship, and that apprenticeship or traineeship is cancelled before they turn 17, the NSW Education Act requires them to return to school.

Note: Students under 17 do not need an exemption if they are still attending school and are enrolling in:

- a VET program on a part-time basis.
- VET fee-for-service programs.
- VET in schools.
- A School-Based Apprenticeship/Traineeship (SBAT).
- a Head Start Apprenticeship/Traineeship (HSAT).

Where an exemption from school has been granted to a student to enrol in a program with CWBTS and while that student remains under the age of 17, we must notify the student's previous school and the relevant Department Office if the student under 17 makes any changes to their enrolment, such as disengaging, exiting, changing to part-time, or reducing program hours to below 25 hours a week:

- The Student Engagement team will alert the Training Manager and General Manager, Quality and Compliance of a disengaging or exiting, changing to part-time, or reducing program hours to below 25 hours a week.

- The Individual Learning Needs and Student Welfare Coordinator will advise the Training Manager and General Manager, Quality and Compliance if they become aware of a student's non-attendance or disengagement from their studies.
- The General Manager, Quality and Compliance will notify the student's previous school and the relevant Department Office if a student under 17 makes any changes to their enrolment, such as disengaging or exiting, changing to part-time, or reducing program hours to below 25 hours a week.

Students with behavioural issues during class

The Trainer and Assessor will attempt to deal with the behavioural issue in the first instance. Where the issue is repeated, they will seek advice from the Training Manager.

The Training Manager will liaise with the Welfare Coordinator to address behavioural issue and work on a strategy to re-engage the Student (if applicable) or suggest another education pathway if applicable.

Students who haven't studied for some time

The Training Manager can provide assistance in study planning to Students who haven't studied for some time.

Language Literacy Numeracy (LLN)

Where the language, literacy, and numeracy (LLN) evaluation indicates that there may be an LLN issue, the Student Services Officer who reviews the application will refer the application to the Individual Learning Needs Support Officer.

The Individual Learning Needs Support Officer review the LLN evaluation document and identify whether there may be a requirement for:

1. Low level support
2. Higher level support and / or reasonable adjustment
3. Potentially not suitable for the course

Where support requirements are identified, the Individual Learning Needs Support Officer will liaise with the Trainer and Assessor to identify the support strategy.

Where a Student is identified as potentially not having the required LLN skills for the course, the Student is asked to come in and undertake another LLN evaluation.

A determination is then made by the Individual Learning Needs Support Officer and if the Student is deemed not to have the required LLN skills to undertake the course, the Coordinator will suggest other education pathways and may assist the Student in locating LLN support services.

Please refer to the Language, Literacy and Numeracy policy for further details.

Students who struggle with PC literacy

Students who will complete part or all of their course online will be evaluated for the PC skills prior to commencing the course.

For the purposes of this policy, 'online' refers to:

1. Accessing course content via Learning Management System (LMS)
2. Undertaking research online to complete specific assessment tasks
3. Completing learning activities online
4. Submitting assessments online
5. Participating in live or recorded webinars

Evaluation will take place via three methods:

1. They will be asked to self-evaluate their skills against key tasks during their course suitability evaluation (e.g. Google, using email etc)
2. They will be required to complete an online LLN which requires them to use PC Skills which includes, but is not limited to opening an email, clicking a link, entering basic details into an online form, use typing skills, use mouse skills such as: drag and drop, highlight, click on links etc
3. Respond to emails throughout the enrolment process

Students who need additional assistance with PC Skills can still participate in courses where PC skills are required. Reasonable adjustment may be made through allowing the Students to complete hard copy assessments, or by providing them with additional coaching, or referring them to a course to help develop their computer skills. An individual learning plan (ILP) will be developed in conjunction with the Trainer by the Training Manager or the Individual Learning Needs Support Officer.

Students who are struggling academically

The Trainer and Assessor monitors Student progress and may provide additional coaching to those Students who are struggling academically.

In some cases, the Trainer and Assessor may liaise with the Training Manager to devise an academic strategy to provide the Student with best opportunity to successfully complete their course.

In some cases, reasonable adjustment may be made where relevant.

Students with personal issues

Students may contact the Training Manager if they are having personal issues such as a relationship or family breakdown, difficulties within their workplace, medical or physical health issues, mental health issues, serious illness with a family member etc. The coordinator will help the Student obtain appropriate support through relevant local agencies.

Death or Serious Illness of a Student

The Training Manager is also notified when there is a death of a student, or a student needs to withdraw due to serious illness.

The Training Manager may be notified of the death or serious illness of student verbally or in writing. The notification may come from any staff member of CWBTS or directly from a student or the student's family.

Death

The Training Manager will advise the Trainer (if they are not already aware) and provide counselling services where required.

Where the student is part of a class, the Training Manager will then meet with the class and Trainer, and they will brief the class on what has happened and discuss grief counselling options and provide resources for support services such as Beyond Blue and other grief counselling services and provide ongoing support to the general class and individual students.

The Training Manager may also be the contact point for the family.

Serious illness

With permission from the student (or family where appropriate), the Training Manager will advise the Trainer (if they are not already aware) and provide counselling services where required.

The Training Manager will then meet with the class and Trainer, and they will brief the class on what has happened.

Where the student is part of a class, the Training Manager will then meet with the class and Trainer, and they will brief the class on what has happened and discuss grief counselling options and provide resources for support services such as Beyond Blue and other grief counselling services and provide ongoing support to the general class and individual students.

The Training Manager may also be the contact point for the family.

The Training Manager will keep in touch with the student where applicable and should the student recover and wish to continue to their studies, will assist in reengaging back into a class.
